Mr. Editor,

KNOWING that there is a number of the most worthless of society, who make it a business to spread evil reports respecting the solvency of banks in the different parts of the United States, for the purpose of depreciating and purchasing their paper. I feel it is my duty to give a list of the Banks of the District of Columbia, that it may be made known to all persons in every part of the Union, that the said Banks do pay specie for their notes, on demand, and that they are justly entitled to the highest credit and standing, and that they are opposed to a suspension of specie payments, and will be the last in the country that will agree to such a measure. This communication is made to prevent imposition, and to inform all persons who may have the paper of those banks, in any part of the Union, that they may hold it as so much specie. Persons emigrating and travelling north, south or west, would do well by taking the notes of those banks, as they will always find them equal to specie, and often to command a premium of 5 to 10 per cent. for remittances to Baltimore, Philadelphia & New-York. To my numerous acquaintances (trading men,) and the community, I pledge myself for the foregoing.
The following are the banks of this district that pay specie for their notes on demand, viz:
The Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank of Georgetown,
Central Bank of Georgetown & Washington,
Union Bank of Georgetown.
Bank of Columbia,
Bank of the Metropolis,
Patriotic Bank of Washington,
Bank of Washington,
Bank of Alexandria,
Union Bank of Alexandria,
Farmers' Bank of Alexandria,
Bank of Potomac,
Branch Bank of the United States at Washington.
I hold myself responsible for the foregoing declaration to the public. Done at my Exchange Banking House, Bridge-street, Georgetown, this 26th day of May, 1819.
ROMULUS RIGGS.
Editors of newspapers throughout the United States, by giving the above a few insertions, will greatly benefit the community. R. R.

Daily Gazette, 7 dolls...Country, 5 dolls.

FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1819.

A few days ago we had the pleasure of presenting the readers of this Gazette with an address delivered to the officers of Fort Washington, by one of the students of the Georgetown College, on their return from a visit to Mount Vernon. A friend has politely handed us the following Address to the Tomb of Washington, spoken by a lad belonging to the party, in the presence of the Hon. Bushrod Washington, proprietor of Mount Vernon.

TO THE TOMB OF WASHINGTON.

We come, kind sir, to gaze upon the earth
Which gave Columbia's mighty hero birth.
We come to heave the patriotic sigh,
Upon the tomb, where now his ashes lie.
Hail sacred spot! as long as Freedom's reign
Shall be the boast and happiness of men,
As long as valor is a nation's pride,
As long as virtue shall on earth reside,
As long as justice shall inhabit here,
So long shall men thy memory revere.
Yes, on thee lies that favorite of God,
Who snatched from slavery's hand her iron rod,
Who trampled down the Britons' tyrant laws,
And nobly fought and bled in Freedom's cause.
Thy kindred, Washington, lies buried here,
Whom Britain must reluctantly revere.
Thy kindred one, whose venerable name
Shall blaze eternal on the lists of fame;
At him posterity in awe shall stand,
And hail him Father of his native land!
Yes, there he lies—yes, there he sleeps alone—
Is this the tomb of mighty Washington?
Is it beneath yon melancholy shade,
The deathless hero of our land is laid?
Yes, in yon monument, with moss o'ergrown,
He lies asleep—yet deem him not alone,
For hosts of angels there bewail his fate,
And thousand seraphs on his slumbers wait.
We also come to shed a tender tear
Upon his grave, whom ev'ry heart holds dear.
We come to scatter o'er his silent tomb
The incense of each aromatic bloom.
And after all our gratitude is paid,
We'll dare to ask one lesson of his shade;
We'll ask him, throwing suppliant hands on high,
To teach us how to live, and how to die.

SUMMARY.

We have long since expressed a decided opinion, that the proceedings of the British government with regard to the cession of Florida and the execution of Ambrister and of Arbuthnot, would all end in smoke; we stated that the English cabinet did not want a declaration of war, and that they would not do any thing on a subject of so delicate a nature, unless they were prepared to justify their demands by the force of arms. The late arrival from England has fully verified the justice of our remarks, for a motion to inquire into the conduct of the British ministry on the subject of the cession of the Floridas and the execution of Ambrister and of Arbuthnot has been rejected without a division. Lord Lansdown who brought forward the motion, expressed his regret in strong terms, that the congress at Vienna had not come to an express understanding on this subject; that is, that none of the allied powers or any of the subordinate powers of Europe, should be allowed to cede any part of their territories without the concurrence of all the rest—His lordship proceeded to remark, that in case of another war with America, our gunboats would swarm from the ports of Florida to the great hazard and annoyance of the West-India Islands. He intimated, therefore, that England, as being a party so eventually interested in this cession, should have been consulted before the treaty was concluded on. With regard to the execution of the two British officers by gen. Jackson, the noble lord labored to prove that, although in foreign service, they still retained all the rights, privileges and immunities of British subjects. He was very severe on Gen. Jackson, and denominated the sanguinary act a stain upon the American name. To these remarks Lord Liverpool and Lord Bathurst, both members of the ministry, replied, that with regard to the cession of Florida, it was a transaction between Spain and the United States only, in which no other power had a right to interfere; that England had no treaty with his Catholic majesty, to guarantee the integrity of his dominions, either at home or abroad; that without such a pledge from England, it would be obviously impolitic for his majesty's ministers to interfere, as in such an event the safety and peace of the country might be compromitted; that it behooved England in case of a controversy with the United States, to have the "vantage ground," which she would not possess if she attempted to assume the character of a dictator, and to interfere in a private negociation between our cabinet and his Catholic majesty. With regard to the conduct of gen. Jackson, although it was stigmatised as barbarous and cruel, it was maintained that this was a case in which ministers could not interfere. It was contended that Messrs. Ambrister and Arbuthnot, by entering into the service of a foreign power, and in opposition to a nation with whom his majesty was at peace, had forfeited their allegiance to their native country. The ministry therefore, co'd not be called upon to vindicate the death of these two men, who had by their own voluntary act renounced their allegiance. This is a broad outline of the debate, and we will venture to ask whether the English ministry would have observed the same caution and delicacy of discussion, if any European government had given rise to such an investigation: we firmly believe that they would not; that Great Britain at the present moment, manifests more reluctance (to use the mildest term) to provoke a controversy with the United States than with any other power on the face of the globe. Let any one who doubts this astonishing fact, contrast the language of their parliamentary orators, and their public writers before, at and after the late war with America. It was this boldness at the outset of this controversy, and this delicacy observed afterwards, that changed the whole complexion of our national character. The American eagle was slumbering until that moment; but hardly had he awakened before he was glittering in the firmament with that glorious constellation by which his head was adorned: his victorious cry was heard from afar, and the thunderbolt in his talons sparkled with a lustre more terrific. New fledged and new plumed, he now climbs the sunbeam of glory with a bolder wing—uninterrupted by the screams of the clamorous birds that behold him soaring in a prouder atmosphere above their heads, he knows, he feels, that his home is the heavens, and he disdains any other answer to their cries, than to astonish by still bolder flights.

Some reports have come to hand in a rather more authentic form than have yet been presented to the public, that a real conspiracy was discovered against the emperor Alexander. If this is really true, the plan adopted by the conspirators, that is, to seize the person of that monarch and to confine him in one of the French provinces, as a hostage for the restoration of Bonaparte, it fairly entitles them, not to the honor of a death upon the scaffold, but to a straight jacket, and a snug residence in the cool and comfortable walls of Old Bedlam.

Mungo Park, after having been murdered and buried, is now by the benevolence of a subsequent report revived, and living in high style in the dominions of his majesty the Emperor of Tombuctoo.

The committee appointed to investigate the concerns of the bank of England have reported, we understand for a resumption of specie, at the expiration of four years.

These are some of the leading articles of intelligence afforded by the latest arrival—surely there can be but little worthy of arresting public attention, when articles of such trifling import assume the name and character of novelties. If the genius of novelty after taking a flight from this country to Europe and returning, is enabled to bring home nothing more than such a miserable Cabinet for the gratification of the curious, she might as well have remained at home and in these hard times employed herself in the more profitable business of darning stockings.

[Morning Chron.

New-York, June 19.

The trial of Messrs. Thorn, Livingston and Tracy, for a conspiracy charged against them by the Merchants Bank, came on in the Court of Sessions yesterday morning, and occupied the Court till 9 in the evening. The prosecution were unable to make out the charge, and the jury acquitted the defendants without retiring from their seats. The witness first called was Mr. Richard Varick, President of the Bank, who testified that the Bank had missed the sum of 100,000 dols. on the 6th March last; that he invited Mr. Thorn to his house on Monday morning following viz. on the 8th March, asked him to breakfast, and by previous concert, had an officer with a writ who there arrested him. While Thorn was thus in custody in Varick's house, he was operated on by threats of indictment, and promise of pardon on a full confession of all facts relating to the 100,000 dols. to sign deeds of his property to the Bank, and to sign an affidavit containing an account of all the transactions. The affidavit was drawn by Mr. Munroe, as Attorney for the Bank, and sworn to before Cornelius Bogert, Esq. When the prosecution offered this affidavit, it was objected to by the counsel for the defendants.

On hearing the argument of counsel, the court held that affidavit inadmissible evidence, on the ground that it was obtained while Thorn was a prisoner in Varick's house, and there operated on by the promises and threats of the President of the bank. This affidavit being rejected, the attorney general said he had not other evidence sufficient to make out the charge—and the jury then gave their verdict, not guilty.—A report of the trial is soon to be published containing all the evidence and proceedings in the cause, with the speeches of counsel; and will no doubt form a very interesting pamphlet.

Counsel for the prosecution—Van Buren attorney general Van Wyck, district attorney; S. Jones, H. Maxwell, J. Anthon, and J. Hamilton, esqrs.

For the defendants—Thos A Emmett, J. Wells, J. O. Hoffman, D. B. Ogden, M. S. Wilkins, W. M. Price, and J. D. Fay, esqrs. [Columbian

A duel was fought on the 17th inst. on Noddle's Island (Boston harbor,) by Midshipmen Van Brent and Walker, of the Independence, 74. Van Brent was shot through the body, the ball passing from the right side out of the left, through the lower part of the lungs. His case is doubtful, but hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Norfolk, June 21.

SUDDEN GALE OF WIND.

On Saturday afternoon, about 3 o'clock, a heavy cloud came up from N. N. W. from which we experienced as severe a blow, for the time it lasted, (about half an hour) as we have known for many months. Its severity off the capes is represented by the masters of several vessels which have since arrived, as tremendous, accompanied by an uncommonly heavy sea, and succeeded by a thick fog, which compelled several vessels coming in to run out again to sea. Some vessels which came in yesterday have been much damaged in their sails.

The Steam Boat Virginia, being at the time on a party of pleasure to the Capes, experienced all its fury, but without damage, or much check being given to her progress.

In the Montgomery, recently arrived at Philadelphia, came 130 passengers, (Anabaptists,) from the neighborhood of Strasburg, all in excellent health, and with considerable property. They are on their way to the Illinois, where a tract of land was purchased for them last summer.

STEAM-BOAT MEMORANDA.

The steam packet Gen. Pike, arrived at this port on Thursday last from Cincinnati, with freight and a large number of passengers. She sailed hence for Cincinnati on the Friday morning following with freight and passengers.

The steam-boat Perseverance, arrived here on Thursday morning last, from Cincinnati, with freight and passengers. She left here on Friday evening on her return trip.

The exploring steam boat Western Engineer, passed the falls in safety on Thursday last. Also, the 10 keel boats, having on board the 6th regiment U. S. Infantry, under the command of Col. Atkinson; the regiment, we understand is complete consisting of 600 rank and file; all remarkably fine looking men, and well calculated for the service. They took water 300 miles above Pittsburgh, and are destined on the Yellow Stone expedition.

The steam-boat Vesta, Anderson, arrived at this port on Sunday last from Cincinnati, with freight and passengers; she left this yesterday on her return trip, with full freight. ☞(An unfortunate circumstance occurred on her arrival, which we mention for the benefit of commanders of boats which stop here: In coming down on the Indiana side of the river, it is absolutely necessary to cross from the upper part of the town of Jeffersonville, to prevent being drawn down by the great suck on the falls. We are informed that the pilot of the Vesta, not regarding the circumstance and the strength of the current, suffered her to run down nearly past the town, and then attempted to bring her across to the mouth of Beargrass; she not being able to stem the current was carried on to the falls, and was with much difficulty drawn back by the aid of a warp line, which was carried off to her from shore. Her situation for some hours was considered very dangerous; but from the great activity of the people on shore and those on board, she sustained little or no injury. A skiff with five men, attempted to carry off to her a coil of warp, and in coming alongside, the force of the current carried her under the wheel and was immediately sunk: one of the men on board caught hold and got upon the buckets, but could not be relieved until the wheel had made about 20 revolutions with him. We are happy to add that he was not materially wounded.)

A remarkable trip.—The steam boat James Ross, Palfrey, arrived at Shippingport on Monday morning last, in the unknown passage of 16 days and 14 hours from New-Orleans with a full freight of merchandize.

ST. AUGUSTINE.

A letter from a gentleman in the South to his friend in this city, gives the following description of the town and fortress of St Augustine:

As I have just returned from St. Augustine (on a jaunt of curiosity) I presume a description of the situation of that place will not be uninteresting to you.—St. Augustine is situated on the Main, about two miles within the bar, immediately opposite the inlet; it is not passable for vessels drawing over fifteen feet of water. The island of Mantanzes runs nearly parallel with the ocean, and forms a point of the south end of St. Augustine inlet.—This is principally solid rock, composed of the concretions of shells, and what is generally made use of for building in the city, and is hewn out in large blocks. It is better calculated for constructions of fortifications than any other material I am acquainted with—and, with proper cement forms a solid mass of rock.

Fort St. Marks is built of this rock and presents a most formidable appearance upon entering the harbor. It is situated on the northern extremity of the city of St. Augustine, commanding the entrance of the harbor, and is sufficiently elevated to secure the city from attack on that quarter.

In the rear of the city is an impenetrable morass or marsh, nearly encircling it; on the margin of which are erected six redoubts. The fort is 20 feet high, and the walls 12 feet thick—it mounts 36 guns; it is four square, with a bastion at each corner, each mounting eight twenty four pounders, with a glacis encircling the work.

The city contains about five hundred houses, built of the kind of stone before described; has a population of five thousand souls principally Minorcans and natives of the province. There are the remains of a convent and government house; the latter occupied by black troops. The catholic church resembles an old gothic building. The city exhibits the remains of ancient splendor, but is now evidently going to decay.

The situation of the country contiguous is very low, but exceeding well adapted to the cultivation of vegetables of every description in the southern country. The atmosphere, is perhaps, less humid than any country I have been in, and is, I conceive, better calculated for northern constitutions than any other southern stations I have visited.

Fish in great abundance is to be caught in the harbor, but owing to the indolence of the inhabitants, the market is badly supplied. Oranges are indigenous in this section of the country, also many other delicious fruits.

The lands on the river St. John are considered more fertile, and most advantageously situated for planters: and after passing twenty miles up, it changes its direction, and runs parallel with the ocean for 150 miles. I am under the impression that the most of St. Johns will be particularly well calculated for commercial men, and men of enterprize, as the bar is much better, and, after passing the bar, vessels may go one hundred and fifty miles without the least impediment.

Extract of a letter, dated, at St. Thomas, May 29.

"Morillo, by the last accounts, was in Calaboza, but daily expected in Caraccas. This unfortunate city has again been visited by an earthquake: it threw down a number of houses, and some few lives were lost.

Norfolk, June 21.

SPANISH NEWS.

Our intelligence from Gibraltar, per the Shepherdess, arrived at New-Haven, is to the 28th April: The king of Spain, some time in that month, called his council together to advise with them on the subject of his revolted colonies, and desired them all to express their sentiments without any reserve; accordingly 22 of the members recommended a compromise with the revolutionists—which so exasperated the king, that notwithstanding he had urged them to give their opinions freely, he immediately dismissed them from his service! A majority of the council were in favor of prosecuting the war.

Two captains in the Spanish navy, (brigadiers of Marine) have been broke for refusing to take command of two 74's destined for Lima—and the king says all shall be broke who refuse, in this critical state of his kingdom, to perform their duty.

Since the arrival of the last frigate from Vera Cruz with money (though it was all private property) the expedition at Cadiz has made some progress. About 40 English transports have arrived from England, to take troops, (under private contract) which with the Russians, Danes, Swedes and French before employed, will make the armada a confederacy of all the holy allies. This does not look much like neutrality—though it was whispered that the English had ordered their cruizers to capture all vessels under their flag having troops, &c. on board to be employed against the Patriots.

The San Telmo, San Fernando and Alexander 1st (74's) and Diana frigate (44) were expected to sail from Cadiz for Lima on or about the 6th of May, but would carry no troops; we shall not be surprised to hear that the cause of this was—because the troops would not go.

It is stated that the King continued to grant exclusive licences to trade, as a means of raising money—to import the produce of his colonies into the kingdom in foreign bottoms on paying the same duties as are paid in national vessels—to import flower into Havana in foreign bottoms upon paying half the present duty; which, with the enormous forced loans whenever money arrives from the Indies, and two lotteries per month, constitute almost the whole system of finance from which the resources of the empire are derived; whilst in several parts of it. bodies of armed banditti occupy the country, plundering all they meet, murdering many, and in some instance have, in parties of 200 strong, laid towns under contribution.

We further learn, that Mr. Wm. D. Robinson who was formerly demanded by the governor of Cadiz, still enjoyed his refuge at Gibraltar, as governor Don had manifested no disposition to authorise his being arrested in conformity to this extraordinary mandate.

For Sale or Lease,

THE following tracts of land in Charles county, Maryland: one lying on the Potomac, at the mouth of Pomonkey creek, containing three hundred and forty acres, about 16 miles from Alexandria, the larger portion level land, of a stiff soil, well adapted to the cultivation of corn, wheat and tobacco, and equal in fertility to any in the neighborhood. On this farm is one of the most elegant sites for building of all those fine heights which border the Potomac, commanding the most extensive view of the adjacent country, both in Virginia and Maryland, for more than twenty miles up and down the river: located in a genteel neighborhood, it would make an agreeable residence, and from its proximity to market, with the advantage of the best navigation, an extremely profitable farm.—The tenant's houses would accommodate the negroes for its cultivation.

A Tract, about one mile back from the former, containing 334 acres, a large portion in wood, white and red oak, and some chesnut; the remainder a tenement in tolerable repair, the whole a high stiff soil, similar to the one above mentioned.

A Tract, lying at the mouth of Mattawoman Creek, about 25 miles from Alexandria, the whole first rate flat river land, now completely enclosed.—On this tract is a noted fishery, called Rum Point, at which there has been cleared upwards of two thousand dollars per annum, and where independent of the fish sold on the shore, there might be put up from one to two thousand barrels every season; besides the profits of the fishery, the advantage of manuring the farm with the offal of the shore, the whole, with a small portion of industry, might be made to produce ten barrels of corn per acre. On the shore, are a dwelling house, houses for holding salt, and curing any quantity of fish, and for the accommodation of hands.

A Tract, lying about 1½ miles from the last mentioned, containing 236 acres, more than 200 of which are in wood, and would cut from 25 to 30 cords per acre, within one mile of the river, where wood has rarely sold for less than five dollars per cord. It will be divided into 50 or 25 acre lots, to suit purchasers.—If preferred, the wood will be sold standing, for so much per acre.

If not disposed of, previous to the first day of Sept. next, the above mentioned arable lands, will be leased out, upon advantageous terms, for five or seven years, at the option of the lessees.

Application to be made to the subscriber, residing near the head of Mattawoman Creek, Charles county, Maryland.

Land for Sale.

I WILL sell a great bargain in a small tract of land, containing about 150 acres, more or less, lying on the Potomac river and Monroe's creek, between the two, on the north side said creek, and forming the mouth, whereon William Williams has for many years resided. This situation would be particularly convenient for any person who follows the water, the Creek forming an excellent harbor, and the neighborhood being wealthy, constant freights might be got. The land is susceptible of great improvement, and is the very best wheat land in all the neighborhood. As it is presumed any person wishing to purchase will first view the premises, a further description is thought unnecessary. For terms apply to the subscriber, near Mattox Bridge, Westmoreland county, Virginia.

Public Sale.

ON the 9th DAY of JULY next, at 12 o'clock of that day, by virtue of a deed of trust, we will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, on the premises, that very valuable tract of land in Fairfax county, near Holmes's Run, and about four miles from Alexandria, generally known by the name of containing about 115 acres. This land is about one half in wood—the balance cleared, and in cultivation, with convenient buildings on it, and excellent water near them. A considerable proportion of the open land is fertile, and well calculated for timothy meadows.

The sum of $2,254 77 cts will be required to be paid in cash; for the residue a credit of twelve months will be given from the day of sale, the purchaser paying interest thereon, and giving satisfactory security for the punctual payment thereof. A conveyance will be made when the purchase money and interest is all paid up. If the terms of the sale should not be complied with by the purchaser, the premises will be immediately re-sold to the highest bidder, at the risque of the person to whom it shall have been struck off, and the same course will be repeated until an effectual sale shall have taken place.

JOHN HOPKINS
Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

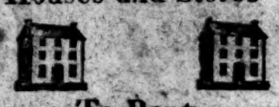

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pensylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be governed by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

100 Dollars Reward.

IS known to have been kidnapped from a field near Germantown, between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock, on the 30th ult. whilst at work alone, a Free Black Man, named HENRY HUDSON, aged between 21 and 22 years, of the height of five feet five inches, very black complexion and dark eyes, has a scar under his left arm, between the wrist and elbow, occasioned by the cut of an axe.

He is by occupation a farmer, a native of Kent county, in the state of Delaware, had on a blue cloth roundabout jacket, old black silk vest, corded velvet pantaloons, and a wool hat.

He is a very civil, inoffensive man, with rather a down look. There is reason to suppose that he was decoyed into a carriage, and conveyed southward.

Any information respecting him will be thankfully received. Keepers of turnpike gates, toll bridges, and taverns, are particularly requested to give such information as may be in their power.

The above reward will be cheerfully paid on conviction of the perpetrators of this flagrant outrage upon the rights of a freeborn citizen of the United States.

Exchange & Broker's Office,

ROMULUS RIGGS,

AT his office, next door below Crawford's tavern, Bridge-st Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on. August 18

Notice,

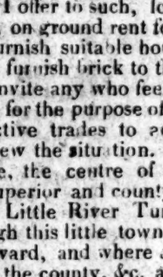

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFFE,
Fairfax Court-House, Va.
